Dear Bob,

Today we are all caught up in the fast pace of the '90s and sometime don't take the time to write and say... thank you!

You have been a great person to know, for any task that we gave you, well you did it, on time and at the agreed price. The first project was the massive parking lot repair and expansion. It was full of surprises, but you pulled it off, sometime working in the worst weather conditions and with a station engineer (me) that kept putting conduits in the ground, which further complicated your job, but you did it, on time and within budget.

With the success of the first job, I was totally convinced that you will be someone I will call upon for future work, and we did. This one was out of the weather however, but the removal of the wall in our graphics suite went off with out any staff interruption and was done, once again, on time and within budget. It was very impressed when you made sure that none of the demolition dust would contaminate our graphics equipment. Its this kind of caring and attention to detail that will continue our association with your company. Its at times hard to find a contractor that really cares about what kind of job he is doing.

I know you did other jobs for us, (all successful) but these two emerge as the ones that were very important to the company, and you made them happen.

Please feel free to use my name as a reference for any future jobs.

Again, thanks for all of your hard work!

Regards,
