Dear Bob,

I am writing this letter to thank you for doing such a wonderful job on our new reception hall. I have thoroughly enjoyed working with you on this project. From the very beginning you have always been very concerned with quality construction. In today's world, that kind of character isn't always easy to find.

If it weren't for you, we may not have this building yet. I remember how our building committee was struggling with how to renovate our mostly unfunctional pavilion. We didn't know how to start or how to get the architect to take us seriously. You were recommended by a parishioner and you showed up at one of our first meetings. Upon inspection of the area, you immediately made construction suggestion that gave us a better understanding of what we needed to do. From that time on, you have helped guide us and have been very easy to communicate with on any questions or concerns that we have had.

I also am grateful for the extras that you gave us on problems that weren't even concerning the renovation of the pavilion. When we had damaging rain leaks in our chapel, you made workable suggestions and promptly brought workmen out to solve the problem. This also occurred in our storage building, and again, you solved the problem. There were other jobs here and there that we asked you to help us with and you have always enthusiastically and effectively worked with us. We definitely want to employ your construction company for future building projects.

We will be inviting you and your family to the dedication of this beautiful new reception hall soon and I pray that God will continue to bless you and your family and that your work will always be successful. You are an asset to the construction business.

If you ever need a recommendation to any future projects you will be working on, please don't hesitate to call us here at St. Paul's. We will give you a good one!

Most sincerely,

Fr. Paul McCallum
